Melbet bookmaker company rules | Concepts and terms Melbet.ru

- games are held in the same city (in the case of international tournaments – in the same country);

- when according to the official calendar of the tournament or championship the game was to be held on the field of the first team, however, due to insufficient conditions or any obstacles to holding the game on the field of the first team, it is held on the field of the second team or on a neutral field.

- In individual tennis tournaments, as well as in matches of the final stage of major tournaments that are held in one country, the order of opponents in a pair may be arbitrary.
- The main time of basketball matches is 40 or 48 minutes (4 quarters, each lasting 10 or 12 minutes respectively) of clean playing time, depending on the requirements of the championship or tournament being held.
- In some tournaments, based on the rules of the match, a tie-break played in the deciding set (up to 10 points) is also taken into account when calculating the prediction for the total number of tie-breaks.
- Regardless of the tournament format, a super tie-break played instead of the deciding set (tie-break up to 10 points) is not taken into account when calculating predictions made on the total number of tie-breaks.
- If the match ends in a draw and no additional inning (innings) is played, or if as a result of additional innings played according to the requirements of this tournament a draw is again recorded, then predictions on the outcomes "W1", "W2" are calculated with odds "1".
- The game is won by the player (pair) who scores 5 or 7 goals, depending on the requirements of the championship or tournament.
- If the game ends in a draw and no additional time is awarded, or if the result of additional time played in accordance with the requirements of this tournament again records a draw, then predictions on the outcomes "W1" and "W2" are calculated with odds "1".
- Depending on the format of the championship or tournament, the number of ends may vary.
- Depending on the requirements of the championship or tournament, the winner may be the player or team that is the first to complete the established number of target deliveries of stones.
- The number of rounds/cards is determined by the official procedure of the online game and the current round of the championship (tournament) being held.
- The winner of the championship (tournament) is considered the team that has won the greatest number of rounds/cards compared to the opponent.
- Depending on the conditions of the tournament, the period may also last 2 minutes.
- the wrestler holds the opponent's shoulders pressed to the ring mat for a set time (according to the tournament requirements);

- Predictions on the winning outcome of the tournament remain valid.
- If, after the participants of the final round become known, the final bout is not held and the winner of the tournament or bout is determined without holding the bout, then predictions on the outcome "Winner of the bout and/or tournament" are calculated with odds "1".
- Predictions on the outcome "Winner of the tournament" remain valid until the participants of the final round become known.
- The bonus credited to the main account within the promotion is equal to the balance of funds on the bonus account, but in any case cannot exceed the amount of the bonus initially credited to the bonus account within the promotion.

- If the outcome (result) of a completed event was for any reason annulled or changed after its publication, the forecast is settled on the basis of the originally published information.
- The gambling organizer is entitled to recalculate the forecast on the basis of changed information about the outcomes (results) of a completed event if the originally published outcomes (results) of the completed event were changed within 24 hours after their original publication.
- 6.12. If within 24 hours after the end of the event its official organizers have not published the outcome (result) of the event, the gambling organizer may use other sources of information.
- 6.13. The gambling organizer independently determines the main sources of information used to determine forecast results.
- The main sources of information used to determine forecast results are approved by the gambling organizer and posted on the website.
- If the main sources of information used to determine forecast results lack the information necessary to settle forecasts, the gambling organizer is entitled to settle forecasts based on information from any other independent source or based on a video broadcast.
- 6.14. If within 72 hours after the end of the event there is no official information, and the gambling organizer has also failed to obtain information from any independent source, the forecasts are subject to settlement at odds of “1”.
- 6.15. If an event that has not yet started is postponed by no more than 24 hours, all forecasts on such event are retained.
- If an event is postponed by more than 24 hours, all forecasts are subject to refund unless otherwise provided by the Rules.
- If within 24 hours it becomes known that an event is postponed by more than 24 hours, the final decision on whether to retain the validity of or refund the forecasts is adopted by the gambling organizer.
- If NBA (NBA), NHL (NHL), NFL (NFL), WBL (MLB) matches did not take place on the scheduled days, the forecasts are subject to settlement at odds of “1”, except in cases where the match is a playoff stage meeting and where the date was incorrectly indicated.
- 6.16. Interrupted events that do not continue or do not conclude within 24 hours are considered to have taken place or not to have taken place according to the rules provided for the given event (except for such sports as tennis, snooker, badminton, and table tennis, for which the specified limitation does not apply).
- In certain cases, when it becomes known from official data that an interrupted event will continue later than 24 hours but no later than 72 hours, the final decision on whether to retain the validity of or refund the forecasts is adopted by the gambling organizer.
- 6.17. In the event of errors committed by employees of the gambling organizer or a technical error (obvious errors in the program, odds, results, handicap and total indicators, inconsistency of odds in different positions, uncharacteristic, incorrect odds, etc.), forecasts are settled at odds of “1”, regardless of the outcome of the forecasts.
- If the gambling organizer incorrectly determined the outcome of an event due to a system or staff error, the gambling organizer is entitled to recalculate the forecasts.
- At the same time, predictions made between an erroneous calculation and a recalculation are considered valid.
- 6.18. Predictions are accepted only until the outcome of the event is determined.

- 6.19. The gambling organizer has the right at any time before the actual start of the event to return the amount of the prediction made to the gambling participant without explanation.
- 6.20. If the gambling organizer has suspicions that the event on which the prediction was made may be pre-arranged (an agreement between the match participants, referees, coaches or two teams on the final score, the outcome of the event, etc.), then predictions on the specified event are calculated with odds «1».
- 6.21. When calculating predictions that were made regarding the statistics of a single game day or round, if at least one event in the round is declared void, then predictions on the round's statistics are calculated with odds «1», except for predictions whose result is unambiguously determined regardless of whether the events took place or not.
- 6.22. The date and time of the event's start indicated by the gambling organizer are informational in nature.
- An erroneously indicated date is not grounds for canceling predictions.
- If the event took place earlier or later than the initially announced date, predictions are considered valid. In this case, predictions are recognized as valid if they were made before the actual start of the event.
- If the event offered in the «LIVE» section is interrupted and, according to official information, will continue later, then predictions on such an event offered in the «LIVE» section (predictions of type «LIVE») are considered valid.
- For the calculation of predictions, the time of the actual start of the event is taken, which is determined based on information provided by the official organizers of the event.
- 6.23. In the list of events, the team on whose field the match is played is listed first.
- ○ both teams from the same city;
- Moving games to a neutral field is not grounds for declaring predictions invalid.
- 6.24. After placing an interactive bet, the gambling participant has the right to make predictions both for the entire amount of the interactive bet and for a part of it.
- 6.25. After making a prediction, the gambling participant has the right to continue participating in the gambling game and make a new prediction on another event offered by the gambling organizer.
- TYPES AND KINDS OF PREDICTIONS.
- 7.1. The gambling organizer accepts bets on the following types and kinds of predictions:
- 7.2. Types of predictions:
- 7.2.1. Prediction type – «Single» / «Ordinary».
- For this type of prediction, the gambling participant must correctly predict one or several interrelated outcomes of a single event.
- Example.
- 7.2.2. Prediction type – «Express».
- For this type of prediction, the gambling participant must correctly predict the outcomes of several events.
- The maximum number of events in an express is 30.
- The minimum number of events in an express is 2.
- All events included in an express must not be related to each other.
- If we place 800 on an express consisting of the following events: Georgia – Belarus P1 with odds 2, Norway – Serbia X with odds 3.5, Bulgaria – Hungary P2 with odds 2.5, and all event outcomes are predicted correctly, then the probable winnings amount will be 800 x (2 x 3.5 x 2.5) = 14000.
- 7.2.3. Prediction type – «System».
- A system is a combination of a certain number of expresses.
- The maximum number of events in a system is 16.

- The minimum number of events in a system is 3.
- This type of prediction is characterized by an equal share of the prediction amount for each component (each express) and an equal number of events included in them (in each express).
- The components of the system are calculated as separate expresses.
- The prediction amount for a component (one express) is determined by dividing the prediction amount by the number of components included in the system (the number of expresses).
- Component 1 (express 1)
- Component 2 (express 2)
- Component 3 (express 3)
- Event, outcome
- Scotland – Israel X
- Iceland – Romania P2
- Valencia – Atalanta P1
- The prediction amount for one component is equal to 400.
- 1200 (prediction amount) / 3 (number of expresses) = 400:
- Component 1 = 3.5 x 2 x 400 = 2800
- Component 2 = 2 x 2.5 x 400 = 2000
- Component 3 = 3.5 x 2.5 x 400 = 3500
- 7.3. Kinds of predictions:
- 7.3.1. Prediction kind – «LINE».
- This kind of prediction is a prediction on the outcome of events that have not yet started.
- Predictions of this kind are accepted exclusively before the actual start of the event.
- 7.3.2. Prediction kind – «LIVE».
- This kind of prediction is a prediction on the outcome of an event that has already started during its conduct.
- Predictions of this kind are accepted exclusively during the period from the actual start of the event to its end.
- 7.4. The gambling organizer may offer gambling participants other predictions as well as apply specialized procedures for calculating predictions that establish temporary conditions and calculation rules different from those set out in the Rules.

- 8.3. Prediction on the total number of points (goals, games, etc.) scored by a participant (team) is designated - «Total».
- The total is written as fractional numbers (for example, 0,5, 1,5, 2,5, ...) or whole numbers (for example, 1, 2, 3, ...).
- 8.4. Prediction on time.
- In this prediction, it is proposed to determine when a particular event will occur (the time of the 1-th goal, the time of the 1-th corner, etc.).
- The exact time for calculating the prediction is determined without taking seconds into account (seconds are rounded up to the minute).
- A goal scored in 10:07 is considered scored in the «11-th minute».

- During gambling, there is no actual transfer of funds between the gambling organizer and the gambling participant.
- If, after placing an interactive bet, a gambling participant has concluded more than one prediction, all concluded predictions constitute a single gambling game for the purposes of determining the outcome of the gambling game.

- The gambling organizer has the right, at its sole discretion, to decide to terminate the gambling game with respect to a gambling participant at any time without giving reasons.
- The gambling organizer provides services by granting the gambling participant access to the website interface, where the gambling participant is given the opportunity in real time to obtain information regarding official sports competitions, sports competitions organized by all-Russian sports federations and professional sports leagues, international sports organizations, foreign sports federations, confederations, leagues or councils (hereinafter - sports events), to conclude one or more predictions on the outcomes of a sports event (sports events), to observe the development and outcome of the event on which the result of the prediction depends, to receive in real time information on the intermediate and final results of sports events, as well as other functional capabilities of the website.
- The response time to a written application of a gambling participant is 30 business days from the day the gambling organizer receives the corresponding application.
- In exceptional cases requiring additional review of information to prepare a response to the application, the review period of a written application of a gambling participant may be extended up to 90 business days from the day the corresponding application is received.
- ○ annul all predictions of the gambling participant;
- ○ calculate all bets of the gambling participant with a coefficient of «1»;
- ○ actions related to placing a bet, prediction solely for the purpose of obtaining a win regardless of the outcome of events, with the simultaneous placement of several predictions on opposite (mutually exclusive) events (outcomes) on the website of the gambling organizer or with another gambling organizer;
- ○ use of game strategies or schemes that guarantee a constant increase in balance, including through mathematical probabilities;
- ○ the gambling participant at the time of concluding the prediction possessed information about the result of the event;
- ○ the gambling participant had the opportunity to influence the result of the event, being a direct participant in the match (athletes, sports referees, coaches, etc.), their relative or a person acting on their behalf;
- If the gambling organizer was forced to prematurely terminate the investigation with respect to a gambling participant who refused to participate in gambling by sending to the unified gambling regulator an application to include information about him in the list of individuals who have refused to participate in gambling, before the end of the verification, the gambling organizer has the right to consider that the gambling participant has refused to participate in the verification.
- Failure to provide the gambling participant with information about the reasons for recognizing the actions of the gambling participant as actions aimed at obtaining a win by fraudulent means and/or unfriendly actions does not deprive the gambling organizer of the right to annul all predictions of the gambling participant, calculate all bets of the gambling participant with a coefficient of «1», and also apply to law enforcement agencies.
- The gambling participant guarantees that participation in the gambling game will not be carried out using funds belonging to third parties.
- Violation of these prohibitions by a gambling participant may be grounds for recognizing interactive bets as invalid solely in the case where the gambling participant placed interactive bets under the influence of deception, violence or threat.

- In the event of a violation by the gambling participant of this prohibition, the gambling organizer has the right to recognize the actions of the gambling participant as actions aimed at obtaining a win by fraudulent means and/or unfriendly towards the gambling organizer and to suppress them.
- The gambling organizer independently determines the possibility of insurance for a prediction and the time period during which the gambling participant has the opportunity to exercise his right to return part of the prediction amount.
- RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE GAMBLING PARTICIPANT.
- ORGANIZATION OF THE GAMBLING GAME.
- During the consideration of the issue of recognizing a win for the gambling participant, the Gambling Organizer has the right to conduct a review of the actions of the gambling participant for the commission by the gambling participant of actions aimed at obtaining a win by fraudulent means and/or unfriendly towards the Gambling Organizer.
- In such case, the Gambling Organizer pays the gambling participant the winnings, which are calculated as the product of all amounts of placed bets, interactive bets and the coefficient «1».
- If the gambling organizer has previously paid funds to the gambling participant, the final winnings amount is reduced by the amount of funds previously paid to the gambling participant.
- The gambling organizer reserves the right to accrue and withhold from the gambling participant a commission for the organization and conduct of the gambling game, as well as a fee (remuneration) for the provision of services within the framework of carrying out activities for the organization and conduct of gambling, in the event of termination of the gambling game with respect to the gambling participant.
- The maximum amount of the commission for the organization and conduct of the gambling game, as well as the fee (remuneration) for the provision of services within the framework of carrying out activities for the organization and conduct of gambling, cannot exceed 30 percent of the sum of all bets, interactive bets accepted from the gambling participant.
- ○ when it is the play-off of the national cup game;
- To determine the probable winnings amount for a prediction, the prediction amount should be multiplied by the offered coefficient.
- If we bet 1000 on the victory of team 1 (P1) with the offered coefficient 2.5, and team 1 wins, the winnings amount will be 1000 x 2.5 = 2500.
- To determine the probable winnings amount for an accumulator, the coefficients of all events included in the accumulator should be multiplied, and then the prediction amount should be multiplied by the resulting coefficient.
- If the outcome of one event is predicted incorrectly, the accumulator is considered lost.
- The gambling participant must specify the total number of all events included in the system, as well as select the size of the system (the number of events included in each component (accumulator)).
- To determine the probable winnings amount for the system, the sum of all probable winnings for the accumulators included in the system should be obtained.
- The winnings for the accumulator will be as follows:
- Thus, the total probable winnings amount for the system will be equal to the sum of the probable winnings of all accumulators, i.e. 2800 + 2000 + 3500 = 8300.
- If the outcome of the 1-th event was predicted incorrectly, then the probable winnings amount for the system will be equal to the winnings amount for the accumulator in which the remaining 2 outcomes were predicted correctly.

- For example, suppose the outcome of the event was predicted incorrectly: Scotland – Israel X, then all components (accumulators) in which this event was included are considered lost (accumulator 1 and 3), and only accumulator 2 wins.
- Thus, the total probable winnings amount for the system is equal to the probable winnings for accumulator 2 – 2000.
- In the case of incorrect prediction of the outcomes of 2 or more events for system 2/3, the prediction is considered lost.
- A handicap with a «+» sign shows the difference in points (goals, sets, seconds, etc.) by which the participant (team) can lose (i.e. lose by a smaller difference) in order for the prediction to be correct.
- A handicap with a «-» sign shows the difference in points (goals) that the participant (team) must overcome (i.e. win by a larger difference) in order for the prediction to be correct.
- The probable winnings amount for a prediction placed on an Asian handicap/total will be the sum of the probable winnings of the first and second parts of the prediction.
- In this case, the probable winnings are calculated as the product of the prediction amount and the coefficient.
- The gambling participant placed a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Handicap 1 (-0.25)» with coefficient 1.85 (the first part of the prediction – 500 on the outcome «Handicap 1 (-0.5)» with coefficient 1.85, and the second part of the prediction – 500 the outcome «Handicap 1 (0)» with coefficient 1.85).
- The probable winnings will be 1000 x 1.85 = 1850.
- The probable winnings are calculated as the product of the prediction amount and the coefficient (coefficient +1)/2.
- The gambling participant placed a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Total more than 2.75» with coefficient 1.7 (the first part of the prediction – 500 on the outcome «Total more than 2.5» with coefficient 1.7, and the second part of the prediction – 500 the outcome «Total more than 3» with coefficient 1.7).
- The probable winnings will be 1000 x (1.7+1)/2 = 1350.
- The probable winnings are calculated as the product of the prediction amount and the number 1/2.
- The gambling participant placed a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Handicap 1 (-1.25)» with coefficient 2.6 (the first part of the prediction – 500 on the outcome «Handicap 1 (-1.5)» with coefficient 2.6, and the second part of the prediction – 500 the outcome «Handicap 1 (-1)» with coefficient 2.6).
- The probable winnings will be 1000 x 1/2 = 500.
- The gambling participant placed a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Total more than 3.75» with coefficient 2.9 (the first part of the prediction – 500 on the outcome «Total more than 3.5» with coefficient 2.9, and the second part of the prediction – 500 the outcome «Total more than 4» with coefficient 2.9).
- To calculate a prediction taking into account the European handicap, it is not the real score of the match (with which the match actually ended) that is taken into account, but the score that will result if the European handicap score is added to the real score of the game.
- The gambling participant made a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Handicap (1:0) – P1» with coefficient 1.9.
- The prediction turned out to be correct, since when the handicap score is added to the game score, the imaginary game score will become (1:0), and the first participant will win.

- The probable winnings will be 1000 x 1.9 = 1900.
- The gambling participant made a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Handicap (1:0) – Draw» with coefficient 1.9.
- The prediction turned out to be correct, since when the handicap score is added to the game score, the imaginary game score will become (3:3), and a draw will be recorded in the match.
- The gambling participant placed a prediction in the amount of 1000 on the outcome «Handicap (1:0) – P2» with coefficient 1.9.
- The prediction turned out to be correct, since when the handicap score is added to the game score, the imaginary game score will become (2:3), and the second participant will win.
- If the final difference in points (goals, sets, seconds, etc.) coincides with the value of the European handicap, then predictions on the outcomes «P1» and «P2» are calculated as losing.
- To win, it is necessary to determine whether the total number of points (goals, games, etc.) scored by the participant (team) will be more or less than the number specified by the gambling organizer.
- If, when concluding predictions, 3 outcomes are offered (more than, equal to or less than the number specified by the gambling organizer), then if the total number of points (goals, games, etc.) scored by the participant (team) coincides with the number specified by the gambling organizer, predictions concluded on the outcomes more than or less than the number specified by the gambling organizer are calculated as a loss.
- When calculating a prediction in which it is proposed to determine whether the total number of points (goals, games, etc.) scored by the participant (team) will be even or odd, the game score 0:0 is considered even.
- The first team will start the game from the center of the field, the second team will score the first goal and there will be a draw.
- If all outcomes of the prediction are predicted correctly, then the sum of game coupons used for the prediction is multiplied by the offered coefficient.
- If one of the outcomes of the prediction was predicted incorrectly, then the prediction is considered lost.
- Regular time for football matches is set at 90 minutes of playing time (2 halves lasting 45 minutes each).
- In the case where, according to the official match protocol, in this match both teams received a warning in the same minute in the same game situation, and the gambling organizer did not offer this option, then predictions on the outcomes «The first team will receive the first warning» and «The second team will receive the first warning» are calculated with a coefficient of «1».
- If a player is sent off due to two warnings, only one is counted when calculating warnings (yellow cards), the second warning (yellow card) is calculated as a red card.
- A corner kick is considered to have taken place (been executed) if a corner kick was awarded and the ball was put into play from the corner mark.
- A free kick is considered to have taken place (been executed) if a free kick was awarded and the ball was put into play by a free kick.
- For calculating the prediction, only offside positions that have taken place (been executed) are taken into account.
- An offside position is considered to have taken place (been executed) if an offside position was recorded and the ball was put into play by an indirect free kick.
- ◦ an offside position will be recorded in the match (an offside position will be recorded and play resumed with an indirect free kick).
- ◦ «Throw-in from the touchline» – was awarded and the ball was put into play from the touchline.

- «Corner kick» – was awarded and the ball was put into play from the corner mark.
- «Free kick» – was awarded and the ball was put into play by a free kick.
- «Offside position» – an offside position was recorded and the ball was put into play by an indirect free kick.
- «Double» (exactly 2 and no more goals scored by the same player into the opponent's goal during the match).
- «Hat-trick» (exactly 3 and no more goals scored by the same player into the opponent's goal during the match).
- «Poker» (exactly 4 and no more goals scored by the same player into the opponent's goal during the match).
- «Penta-trick» (exactly 5 and no more goals scored by the same player into the opponent's goal during the match).

- If 2 or more of the above-listed outcomes made by different players were registered in the match, then predictions on these outcomes are considered winning.
- Own goal (if a player scores a goal into his own goal).
- From play (if a goal was scored from play with a kick of the foot or in another permissible manner, with the exception of a header, and if the goal was not scored from a free kick or penalty and was not recorded as an own goal).

- A comeback victory is considered a victory of a team in the final result of the match after the team was losing during some current score.
- Players who scored an own goal are not taken into account in the calculation.
- The jersey numbers of players who scored more than one goal are counted once.
- A situation where the referee discusses a game episode with assistants is also not considered a video replay.
- If more than one medical team simultaneously enters the field for a player or players of one team or players of two opposing teams, then it is considered that the medical team entered the field 1 times.
- The gambling participant at the 76-th minute of the match made a prediction on the outcome «Rest of the match – P2».
- The prediction turned out to be correct, since when subtracting the game score recorded before the 76-th minute of the match from the real game score, the imaginary game score will become (0:1).
- The gambling participant placed a prediction on the outcome «P2 – 16-30 min».
- The prediction turned out to be correct, since when subtracting the game score recorded before the 16-th minute of the match from the game score recorded at the end of the 30-th minute of the match, the imaginary game score will become (0:1).
- The gambling participant placed a prediction on the outcome «Total from 16-30 min. More than (1.5)».
- The prediction turned out to be incorrect, since when subtracting the game score recorded before the 16-th minute of the match from the game score recorded at the end of the 30-th minute of the match, the imaginary game score will become (0:1).
- The top scorer of the championship is considered the player who scored the most goals in regular time of the match and in extra periods.

- If several players scored the same number of goals in regular time and extra periods, then the top scorer of the championship is recognized as the player who, throughout this championship, made the most assists.
- If several players made the same number of assists, then the top scorer of the championship is recognized as the player who spent the fewest minutes on the field.
- In the case of complete coincidence of the above indicators of players, all players with the corresponding indicators are considered the top scorers of the championship.
- ◦ if the player participated in more than half of all matches of the specified club championship, then predictions are calculated according to the final result of the championship.
- ◦ if the player did not participate in more than half of all matches of the specified club championship, then all predictions on the outcome «Top scorer of the championship», including predictions on other players, are calculated with a coefficient of «1».
- An exception is the case when the referee during the break shows a yellow or red card to a player who played in the first half and has not yet been substituted.
- When calculating predictions made on the outcomes of sendings-off and warnings, sendings-off and warnings given to substitute players or players who participated in the game but were substituted, the coach or coaching staff are not taken into account, and warnings and sendings-off made after the final whistle announcing the end of the match are also not taken into account.
- ◦ if the referee stopped the game before the ball touched the post/crossbar.
- ◦ if the ball touched the post/crossbar and rolled out of the field (before leaving the field it did not touch any player or referee).
- ◦ if after touching the post/crossbar a goal was recorded (after touching the post or crossbar the ball did not touch any player or referee and immediately ended up in the goal).
- If the ball touches the post and then the crossbar, or vice versa – first touches the crossbar and then the post, or touches the crossbar and post simultaneously, it is considered that the ball touched the post/crossbar once, if after the first touch the ball did not in any way touch any player or referee.
- In disputed situations, when in predictions on match outcomes and match statistics made in real time at the same time, the recorded minutes of match playing time differ, the playing time recorded at the conclusion of the prediction on the match outcome is taken as the basis.
- If after a draw in the main time of the match the teams finish the game in a draw, then the prediction is calculated with odds «1».
- The points scored by a player are equal to the sum of the goals scored by him and the number of goal assists made by him in the given match.
- If several players took part in an attack that ended in a goal, all these players may be awarded points.
- Predictions made on the outcomes «Winner of the game» of interrupted ice hockey matches with an equal score that are considered to have taken place are calculated with odds «1».
- In this case, it is considered that the 6-th game of the 2-th set was won by the second tennis player.
- In a match, the team that wins in three sets wins, and in a set – the team that is the first to score 25 points (in the 5-th final set – 15 points) and has an advantage over the opponent of at least 2 points.
- In a match, the team that wins in 2-th sets wins, and in a set – the team that is the first to score 21 point (in the 3-th final set – 15 points), having an advantage over the opponent of at least 2 points.
- In such cases, the organizer of gambling on the website indicates a special note about a possible change in the format of the game.

- Predictions on the number of player statistics who did not participate in the match and/or predictions recognized as invalid are calculated with odds «1».
- If an interrupted match is replayed from the very beginning, then predictions on the outcomes of the interrupted match are calculated with odds «1», except for predictions whose outcomes have already become unambiguously known.
- The winner of the match is considered the player who won the greatest number of frames.
- In the event of a «Stalemate situation» at the suggestion of the referee (both players must simultaneously agree to the referee's suggestion to resume the frame), the players may play the current frame anew (resume the frame from the score 0:0).
- In such a case, predictions on the outcomes of the current frame are calculated based on the results recorded during the replayed frame.
- The player who did not agree to the referee's suggestion continues the game.
- However, if after continuing the frame the player misses on three consecutive shots, the victory in the frame is awarded to the opponent.
- If the player who did not agree with the referee continues the game and pots balls, then predictions made on this frame remain in force and are calculated based on the final result.
- «Century break» is a situation in which any of the players in a match scores 100 (one hundred) or more points with one visit and without misses.

- During the verification period, in case it is necessary to obtain confirmation of information and data received from a gambling participant, as well as to collect additional data and information necessary for conducting the verification, the gambling organizer has the right to send requests and receive information from state bodies, the ECPUS, all-Russian sports federations and professional sports leagues, international sports organizations, foreign sports federations, confederations, leagues, councils, other organizers of sports events and organizations, as well as other gambling organizers.
- For the purposes of conducting the verification, the gambling organizer has the right to collect from open sources information and data about the client, including information about the client's status (athlete, sports judge, coach, their relative, etc.), role and participation in the conduct of the sports event.
- Settlement on these predictions is made with the coefficient "1".
- The discrepancy of the coefficients in the line with the probability of the event outcome is determined according to the internal criteria of the gambling organizer.
- For a prediction of the type "Single" / "Ordinary", the coefficient for the event must be greater than "1.1".
- For a prediction of the type "Express", the final coefficient for all events included in the express must be greater than "1.1".
- For a prediction of the type "System", the coefficient for each of the events included in the system must be greater than "1.1".
- ○ represents or has previously represented the interests of the Gambling Organizer or other gambling organizers, and also carried out professional activity in the field of sports event analytics;

- For baseball and ice hockey matches held in formats (3x5), (3x7), (3x10), (3x15), the time established in this paragraph is 8 hours instead of 24 hours.
- Outcomes of events considered to have taken place are calculated based on the actual results registered at the moment of interruption, and outcomes of events considered not to have taken place are subject to calculation with the coefficient "1", except for outcomes that have already become unambiguously known at the moment of interruption of the event, the result of which does not depend on the final result of the event (for example, a team will score a goal, both teams will score a goal, who will score the first goal, one of the teams will win in the first half, etc.).
- If during the specified period it becomes known that the interrupted event will not be continued but will be started anew, the outcomes of the event that became unambiguously known at the moment of interruption are subject to calculation, and the remaining outcomes are calculated with the coefficient "1".
- If the technical error that occurred cannot affect the results of the event and the calculation of predictions, then the predictions are calculated using the original coefficients.
- Predictions made after the determination of the event outcome are calculated with the coefficient "1".
- In the event that for any reason the gambling organizer offered to conclude predictions on an event in the "LINE" section (predictions of the "LINE" type) after the actual start of the event, then such predictions are subject to calculation with the coefficient "1".

- If the match is held on the field of the team whose name is indicated second, then predictions for this match are calculated with the coefficient "1", except for the following cases:
- ◦ when a friendly match is held;
- In the event that a prediction for any reason is subject to return, then the prediction amount is multiplied by the coefficient "1".
- In the event that events related to each other were included in the express, then for the calculation of the prediction only the event with the highest coefficient is taken into account.
- If one of the events included in the express was calculated with the coefficient "1", then such an event does not affect the results of other events included in the express.
- Suppose we assembled a system 2/3 (the total number of events included in the system is 3, the size of the system (the number of events included in each component (express)) is 2), and the amount of the prediction made is 1200. The system includes the following events: Scotland – Israel X with coefficient 3.5, Iceland – Romania P2 with coefficient 2, Valencia – Atalanta P1 with coefficient 2.5. The following combinations are formed:
- coefficients
- If one of the events included in the system was calculated with the coefficient "1", then such an event does not affect the results of other events included in the system.
- In the event that the final difference in points (goals, sets, seconds, etc.) coincides with the handicap value expressed in whole numbers, then the prediction is calculated with the coefficient "1".
- In the event that the event ends in a draw, then the prediction is calculated with the coefficient "1".
- The prediction amount on the Asian handicap/total is divided into two equal parts between the first and second parts of the prediction, and the prediction coefficient remains the same for the first and second parts of the prediction.
- The match ended with the score 2:1.
- 2. Half of the prediction is correct, and the other half is calculated with the coefficient "1".
- One half of the prediction turned out to be correct, and the second is calculated with the coefficient "1".

- The match ended with the score 1:0.
- One half of the prediction turned out to be incorrect, and the second is calculated with the coefficient "1".
- The match ended with the score 1:1.
- If a prediction with an Asian handicap (total) is included in an express or system, the prediction coefficient is calculated in the same way as in the case of a single prediction.
- Predictions taking into account the European handicap are calculated based on the imaginary match score (the score obtained by adding the European handicap score to the final match score).
- The match ended with the score 0:0.
- The match ended with the score 2:3.
- The match ended with the score 1:3.
- In the event that when concluding predictions only 2 outcomes are offered (more or less than the number specified by the gambling organizer), then if the total number of points (goals, games, etc.) scored by the participant (team) coincides with the number specified by the gambling organizer, the predictions are calculated with the coefficient "1".

- In the event that one of the outcomes of the prediction was calculated with the coefficient "1", and the remaining outcomes of the prediction were predicted correctly, then the prediction is calculated with the coefficient "1".
- Results recorded in post-match added time and penalties are not taken into account when calculating predictions on outcomes offered for the main time.
- Time compensated by the referee is attributed to the corresponding half or main time of the match.

- For calculating the prediction on the remainder of the match, it is not the real match score (with which the match actually ended) that is taken into account, but the score that will be obtained if the result that was recorded in the match before concluding the prediction is subtracted from the real match score.

Online sports betting - Melbet bookmaker. Sports, esports and settlement rules.

Field 1	Field 2
Types of bets in Mel Bet
Single	- a single bet, which includes one outcome for one sports event. If the forecast turns out to be correct, the player receives a profit. The winnings amount is calculated by multiplying the bet cost by the coefficient in the coupon.
Accumulator	- a combined sports bet may include several independent sports matches. An accumulator is formed from events in different disciplines. If at least one forecast in the accumulator does not play, the entire bet loses. When the player has correctly predicted all the marked meetings in the accumulator coupon, the winnings will be calculated as the product of the bet by the final coefficient in the coupon.
System	- bets of the system type assume that several separate accumulators will be included in the coupon, and single bets may also be present. Such a type of transaction will not be considered losing if any accumulator is incorrectly predicted by the player.
